

Thank you, thanks, obrigado, thank you...

Thank you in every possible way from the children of Mozambique.

With the daunting task of furnishing and funding two new classrooms in just 5 days, to educate the expanding number of children desperate to learn, you our supporters are helping us do the impossible.

Instead of schooling 270 children this year as we had previously budgeted for, our primary school in Manga is schooling nearly 450 children in 8 classes.

A sacrificial effort across the board saw many new people sponsoring children. Those who already sponsor one child chose to sponsor others, business people dug deep and one wonderful couple sold a special piece of furniture just to help the children into their first day of school.

Opening day at the MozOutreach Primary School

One school rose to the challenge of sponsoring a teacher's salary.

In Mozambique, the teachers sacrificed too - agreeing to teach more than one class.

We were able to put bars in the windows and desks in the classrooms.

The government also donated work books.

We are still praying to get power to the classes and sponsorships for the extra children.

But we did it! Thankyou!

One Big Happy Family

Where is that special place where a person can feel secure, can speak their mind, can let their hair down, know that it is okay to have a bad day, find a bed and a meal, and experience love?

It is of course at home - with family.

One of our core values at Mozambique Outreach is that of family. We realise that God the Father loves family and that He encourages this value to be expressed in all that we do.

One of the realities we face everyday in Mozambique is that we really are working with the poorest of the poor.

How do we deal a husband who hasn't got the next meal for his wife and children?.

How do we deal with an old woman whose stick house has just been destroyed by a storm or flood?

How should we deal with a child whose whole future depends on whether the father has excess money to send him to school?

We have mechanisms in place to try and help these situations but one of the underlying values that motivates us is - family. What would I do if it was my son, my daughter, my brother, my sister, my mother , my father?

At Mozambique Outreach whether you are on staff, a missionary, a volunteer, a pastor or a partner - whether you are a Mozambican or from another country like Australia, USA or South Africa, we consider you a part of our family.

We are not here just to be clinical about the business of the Lord's work; you really do matter to us.

God Bless you, Greg and Jay

FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL for 450 Mozambican children

MozOutreach Primary School
First Day 2004.

First day of school for 450 children

It was typically extremely hot and humid as hundreds of adults and children gathered on the school grounds for the official opening of 8 classes

The church building was full and overflowing with at least 100 people inside the small reed building with many more wanting to squeeze in the door, standing 3 and 4 deep around the outside, eagerly listening to the events taking place inside.

It was an amazing sight.!

Local Man Of God Prays For Children

Rev Chiverengo, the Head of the Ministers' Fraternal in Beira opened the afternoon in prayer.

Alice, the school principal hosted the rest of the afternoon and gave a short speech to the parents and students of the school.

Government Comes Up With The Goods

MozOutreach Field Director Emma Jones welcomed everyone including the area representative for the Dept of Education who spoke to the large crowd of people and delivered the good news that the Dept of education would be helping Mozambique Outreach with its request for the provision of school text books for the children.

Proud Parents Are Thankful

It was encouraging to see so many parents show support for their child's education by attending the afternoon's proceedings.

They were given the opportunity to ask a few questions before the 2004 school year was officially declared open.

It was a wonderful start to an exciting new year.

Lots And Lots Of Children

With enrolments more than doubling from the previous year, there will be at least 150 children on the school grounds at any one time throughout the day learning

Portugese and Maths as well as hearing the Gospel message.

The lives that will be changed because of the support given by so many

Parents and children cram in to the reed church to hear from Emma, principal Alice & the director of Education.
